Condor Biologist Joseph Brandt

A Special Presentation Honoring Janet Hamber - Trailblazer for Women in Science

Plus Dolly - LA Zoo's Ambassador Condor Plus The Condor's Shadow Documentary

Janet Hamber began her field research on the California condor in the 1970's as a biologist at the Santa Barbara Museum of Natural History. A true Trailblazer for Women in Science and a remarkable inspiration for generations of conservationists on this 50th anniversary of the very first endangered species list.

The Condor's Shadow is an engaging year-in-the-life film that follows a feisty condor named Pitashi and biologist Joseph Brandt of the Ventura-based USFWS California Condor Recovery Program. The film will help you appreciate the challenges of restoring a species that came so very close to extinction. (55 Minute PBS version) Film trailer: www.theCondorsShadow.com
